

mine second | FIONA HALL
2803 - 018042020

intelligent animal presents an exhibition in three parts by three artists exhibiting in conjunction with Darlington Install Project (DIP).

Community members from around the country are undertaking frontline action to stop the construction of the Adani Carmichael Mine at Moray Downs, Queensland. These dedicated people are engaging in peaceful civil disobedience to show Adani and their supporters that the community will not let them build their Mine. Intelligent Animal (ia) operates as online art sales website setup to raise money and contribute to nominated action groups protecting our bio-diversity, and ensuring its future. We also strive to create awareness of these initiatives through opportunities through the exhibiting of artworks. The art exhibited may not necessarily correlate to Climate Change.

In this exhibition Fiona Hall showcases her passion for nature in its wild, and untamed state. It is with her verve for life and the well being of all living things that she enables us to observe and see from her point-of-view.

Sales allocation breakdown: 50% artist, 30% Frontline Action on Coal, 20% Intelligent Animal (ia). Artists have an opportunity to forego artist payment and nominate full amount to Frontline Action on Coal. This joint initiative would function as a cross-promotion awareness that aligns with the continuing Frontline Action on Coal campaigns and networked through ia in addition to DIP.

ia acknowledges the First Australians on whose traditional lands we live, create, meet and work, and their elders past, present and emerging, whose cultures are among the oldest continuing cultures in human history.

FIONA HALL

Fiona is a Sydney based photographer born in Scotland. She has exhibited her photographs at Federation Square. She has holds a passionate interest for wild and lonely places and has been to Antarctica eleven times. A remarkable achievement when considering she has multiple sclerosis. MS affects the lives of over 22,000 young Australian's. This has not stopped Fiona maintaining a sense of adventure while travelling and living in countries as diverse as Bermuda and Chile. She continues to see the world with a photographer's eye and in her words, her condition, "has added a new dimension to the term 'camera shake'."

ARTIST STATEMENT

I have been fascinated from an early age by the icy wilderness at the bottom of the world, and reared on tales of Shackleton, Scott and their like. I am adamant that Antarctica should not be closed to 'ordinary' travellers – and not exclusive for the preserves of science. It's not a good thing; it's not just theirs simply because they have the knowledge. This knowledge hasn't stopped them making an unholy mess of places like McMurdo Sound. It was tourism that helped force the scientific community into cleaning up their act.

It is with this manifesto I raised awareness of the difficulties of day-to-day living with MS, and to explore the idea that disability and adventure travel are not mutually exclusive. I undertook a voyage to Antarctica followed by an extensive 'road trip' in Chile, to raise funds for MS research.
